

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Two Connecticut Equine Practices Join Forces

Bridgewater, CT – July 23, 2017 - Dr. Lara Gardner and Dr. Mark Baus are pleased to announce that as of July 1st they have merged their practices.

Gardner Equine and Grand Prix Equine were each started in 2009 and both have grown significantly in that time. Grand Prix Equine provides focused care for the performance horse in New York, Connecticut and Florida with Dr. Baus and his partner, Dr. Johanna Kremberg. Gardner Equine provides wellness and comprehensive care to horses in central Connecticut with Dr. Ellie Wahlberg.

Dr. Gardner has done an exceptional job providing her horses extraordinary care along with outstanding service to her clients. She is on family leave while awaiting the birth of her second child while Dr. Wahlberg and Kacey Buckley continue providing care for the Gardner Equine horses.

The union of these two distinguished practices promises to expand services and improve quality of care in each practice. The combined experience of the doctors along with the addition of advanced diagnostic and therapeutic tools will ensure that the horses entrusted to their care will benefit from the expanded practice. Clients and their horses will receive the benefits of a large practice while benefitting from the personalized care of the small practice.

Gardner Equine can be reached at (860) 342-8889 and Grand Prix Equine can be contacted at (203) 733-0789. Questions about either practice can be answered by Sandy at either number, extension 6. You can also email them at info@grandprixequine.com. The website for Grand Prix Equine is at grandprixequine.com while Gardner Equine is at gardnerequine.com.
